#61, get 100,000 friends on Facebook

I'm sure if you have been here before you have seen the large Facebook and Twitter logo's on just to the right there. Those respectively link back to our Facebook and Twitter. In case you haven't noticed as well, #61 on our list of things to do involves getting at least 100,000 friends on Facebook. Currently we are at 41. Not a bad start, but we defiantly need to keep going! Help us out by adding us!

The Rush-Gates house

Thanks to reader "beaucephus" from the bodybuilding.com forums who recommended a haunted house for us to stay at (#65). According to the website arkansas.com

After Dr. Rush's death in 1961, the house stayed in the family until 1995. Over the years, Arkansas urban legends about the house continued to grow, as stories of weird occurrences and shadowy figures in the windows continued to flourish.

#79 "The Ultimate Burrito"

The first item we did was one that came from just being hungry. The goal was simple, visit the closest Taco Bell, and order a burrito with every ingredient they offer. After a few strange looks from management and the accompanying customers who had the misfortune of being stuck behind us for 10 minutes, we finished our order.
